

About the ILF

To remember, reclaim, and renew the foundational principles of law vital to confronting rising extremism, and the antisemitism that signals it.

The International Legal Forum provides a hub for a global network of experts advancing collaborative and proactive strategies to confront the systematic abuse of facts and law that fuel antisemitism, embolden extremism, and corrode the structures that sustain free and lawful societies across spaces and places.

Accountability

Holding institutions, governments, and individuals to the equal and consistent application of the law.

Advocacy

Exposing and challenging antisemitism disguised as justice through principled and strategic advocacy.

Education

Equipping decision-makers, professionals, students, and the public with the tools to recognize, expose, and combat the weaponization of law.

The Challenge

We live in a world where legal language and principles are hijacked, redefined, inverted, and weaponized, including to demonize, delegitimize, and apply double standards against the Jewish people and the Jewish state, normalizing ever-mutating antisemitism, and the extremism it signals. Today, infrastructure created and entrusted to protect human dignity is being used to undermine it.

The International Legal Forum aims to confront this challenge by exposing this danger, restoring the original meaning of the hijacked legal principles, ensuring consistent application of law, and reinforcing the foundations essential to a rules-based international order. This work recognizes antisemitism as both a symptom and a weapon that sounds a siren, signaling a rising threat to humanity, freedom, and the dignity of difference.

The Solution

ILF is committed to proactively addressing this multi-front challenge from the root, instead of responding reactively to the symptoms that manifest in real-world harm.

Using the pillars of accountability, advocacy, and education, ILF will initiate collaborative strategies that remember facts and law; reclaim what was hijacked, redefined, inverted, and weaponized against the Jewish people and state, but not only; and renew the commitment to uphold, promote, and protect all equally and consistently.

Through these initiatives, the ILF invites partners to be part of the solution.

The following proposals reflect our mission in action – transforming shared concern into coordinated, credible, and lasting impact by working together to remember, reclaim and renew our shared responsibility to the integrity of law.
